

Norman Love Confections introduces Easter treats

CHOCOLATE | MARCH 9, 2013 | BY: KELLIE SPEED |

Easter is synonymous with chocolate so there is no better time than now to indulge in some really, really good chocolate. Meet Norman Love Confections, which has created a limited-edition Easter confection of handcrafted dark, milk and white chocolate flavors.

We love their eight limited edition flavors for Easter, which come in the shape of an Easter egg.

Caramel Crunch: Crunchy dark chocolate pearls, hidden within this golden milk chocolate caramel egg

Creamy Peanut Butter: Polka-dotted smooth peanut butter ganache wrapped up in a milk chocolate shell.

Butterscotch: A silky butterscotch ganache made from slow-cooked brown sugar and butter and creamy white chocolate waits within a thin milk chocolate shell.

Vanilla Pudding: Classic vanilla pudding with a chocolate twist, deliciously presented in white chocolate.

Coconut Almond: Caramelized almond praline, layered atop a creamy white chocolate coconut ganache, pairs perfectly with this egg's decadent dark chocolate shell.

Mint Chocolate Cookie: Delicious cream-filled cookies blended into a sweet and creamy dark chocolate mint ganache in a thin dark chocolate shell.

Strawberry Shortcake: Slow-cooked strawberries and lots of vanilla make the perfect fresh jam, layered with a buttery shortbread ganache in this wonderful springtime white chocolate treat.

Lemon Drop: The tart and refreshing flavor of this childhood sweet are captured in a silky lemon ganache and wrapped in a creamy white chocolate shell.

Easter collections are available in a variety of gift boxes ranging from $13.25 (5-pc) to $95 (50-pc) plus shipping and handling.
