The French Press has announced that it has expanded its offerings of Norman Love Confections, and is the only establishment in Cape Coral to serve dessert pastries handcrafted by the world-renowned chocolatier.

The European-style bakery caf located at Cape Harbour Marina has been a Norman Love Confections retail partner since May 2015, when it began selling boxed chocolates, 12 flavors by the piece, the BLACK line of single-origin dark chocolates, chocolate bars and barks and other specialties. Now the caf will be serving Norman Love's French macaroons, a gluten-free chocolate almond cake, three varieties of brownies and an assortment of petit gateaux.

Valeria Zanella Voisin of The French Press said, "It is an honor to be the only store in the Cape carrying these beautiful desserts. We are proud to partner Norman Love, a real Southwest Florida success story, and to offer his creations on this side of the bridge."

The French Press regulars can continue to enjoy their coffee with Chef Benjamin Voisin's daily selections of fresh baked pastry, breads, sweet treats and 24 flavors of gelato, along with breakfast, soups, sandwiches, salads and daily specials. Now with the Norman Love dessert bar, visitors to Cape Harbour can indulge in many more delicious choices including the chocolatier's edible art.

The culinary and wine experts at Fathoms and The French Press are currently tailoring a wine list to pair with Norman Love's desserts to further elevate the experience. Seasonal and holiday dessert offerings will be available. Custom orders are always available with 72 hours' notice.

With decades of experience, Hoffman Group Holdings LLC is a hospitality company that owns Fathoms Restaurant & Bar and The French Press at Cape Harbour Marina. With the creation of Black Salt, acclaimed French chefs Fabrice Deletrain and Benjamin Voisin offer their personalities, creative synergy and unique artistry to elevate every occasion.
